From War Zones

The historic fight which the vastly outnumbered Finns have been making to hold their city of Viipuri (Viborg) in the face of fierce bolshevik attacks from four directions tells a graphic story of the strategic importance of this ancient port.

Viipuri is the key position to the entire Mannerheim line of defense—southern gateway to Finland—which the little army of defenders has been holding against great odds ever since the Reds began their invasion three months ago.

Were this old city of less importance to the very life of the country the Finns—so dog-tired from fighting day and night that they must be staggering on their weary legs—presumably would have pulled back before this.

But Viipuri is the heart of the entire southern defense. The battle we are now witnessing on the Karelian isthmus is the crisis of the Russo-Finnish war.

What happens in the immediate future likely will determine the outcome of Finland's struggle. And it will have a great bearing on the history of the rest of Europe.

If Baron Mannerheim, Finland's aged but mighty man of arms, had even a hundred thousand fresh troops to throw into the battle now, he would stand a good chance of holding off the Russians until spring came to turn the country into marsh-land and so protect it from invasion. But official action by the Anglo-French allies still hangs fire, and the needed help hasn't arrived.

Still, while the Finns are fighting with their backs to the wall, they aren't licked yet. They have performed such miracles thus far

California Race
Board Figures in Alleged Scandal

(By The Associated Press)
Los Angeles, March 5.—For $300,000 to be paid to the Democratic state central committee—an official of Hollywood park said his track was offered California's coveted winter horse racing dates during 1940 and 1941.

George F. Young, vice president of the Hollywood Turf Club, created a sensation yesterday as he testified before a special state senate investigating committee that such terms were offered him by Norman W. Church, owner of a string of race horses.

"It was last summer," Young declared. "Harold Anderson (operator of concessions at Hollywood park) told me Norman Church wanted $100,000 for the Democratic central committee.

"Two days later I met Church and Ralph Evans (then secretary to Gov. Culbert L. Olson) at the track. I talked to Church alone. He wanted $150,000 for 1940. I told him we had no money like that."

Several nights later, he went on, Church telephoned him.

Governor a Witness

"He told me he wanted a $250,000 contribution to the Democratic central committee when the proposed 1940 days were announced," Young added. "He said he wanted $50,000 when the season started. He wanted an additional $25,000 later, then $50,000 at the close of the season.

"Not only that, but he told me he wanted the same amounts in 1941—a total of $300,000.

"I refused flatly. I heard no

Speakers at Conservation Banquet Last Night

Over 300 attended the annual farmer-business men banquet at the Amboy Township high school last night where the members of the Lee County Soil Conservation committee were hosts to their business associates and wives. Seated at the speaker's table were (left to right) Leon Garrison of Dixon, a member of the committee; J. W. Stevenson of Streator, field man from the state committee; John Baumgartner of Decatur, member of the Illinois Soil Conservation committee and principal speaker, and Dale Rosenkrans, chairman of the banquet. Last night's meeting was held for the purpose of acquainting the business men of the county with the soil conservation program and also included on the program were Charles E. Yale, farm adviser; Miss Marian Simpson, home adviser, and J. M. Keay, secretary-treasurer of the committee and office manager.

WARFARE AT SEA

German U-Boat is Sunk;
Three English Ships
May Be Lost

BULLETIN
(By The Associated Press)
London, March 5.—Five Italian ships were taken to the British contraband control base off Deal, southeastern England, today in the growing controversy between Britain and Italy over Italian imports of German coal.

London, March 5.—(AP)—Stroke and counter-stroke in the struggle for control of the seas today matched a report of the probable destruction of a German submarine by air attack against the known loss of a British merchantman and possible loss of two others.

A Royal Air Force plane scouting Schilling Roads, German naval stronghold off the Elbe river in Heigoland bight, was reported last night by the air ministry to have scored a direct hit on a submarine lying at the surface of shallow water.

"Four bombs were dropped, one of which registered a direct hit between the conning tower and the stern," said a ministry announcement.

"After the attack, the submarine was seen enveloped in a cloud of greyish black smoke with only the upper part of its conning tower above water."

Thus, perhaps, another German loss could be added to the half-hundred submarines which, according to unofficial estimate, have been sent to the bottom by British action in the half-year-old war.

British Losses

But against this strike the British had to weigh the announcement early today that the 6,717-ton motorship Pacific Reliance had been sunk off the west coast by "enemy action" and SOS messages indicating that the 5,841-ton steamer, El Cierro, and the 10,516-ton tanker Charles F. Meyer had run afoul of undersea raiders.

"We are sinking," said the message from the Charles F. Meyer after the big tanker reported being torpedoed 50 miles southeast of Hastings in the English channel.

"We are being chased by a submarine," said an SOS attributed by Mackay Radio, New York, to El Cierro yesterday from a position about 900 miles east of the Virgin Islands.

The entire crew of 53 from the Pacific Reliance landed on the Cornish coast during the night. Although badly holed, the motorship remained afloat for some time, enabling the men to escape in six lifeboats.

The combined tonnage of the Pacific Reliance, Charles F. Meyer and El Cierro is many times over the 1,886 which the Admiralty said was definitely lost to British shipping in the week ended March 3. Against the week's British sinkings the Admiralty reported that to avert capture the crews of four German vessels, totaling 18,400 tons, scuttled their ships.

CLIMATE BACKFIRES

Los Angeles, March 5.—(AP)—California's famed climate has backfired.

The Chamber of Commerce agricultural department reports that because of "perpetual" sunshine "the outlook is not so favorable for the cold-loving deciduous fruits," such as peaches and apricots.

Vote on Move to Curb "Snooping"
Has Been Delayed

Washington, March 5.—(AP)—The senate commerce committee voted 10 to 5 today to postpone until next Tuesday action on a resolution suggesting that questions about personal income be eliminated from the 1940 census.

Chairman Bailey (D-NC) said the action was taken "because many members wanted to read the record of the hearings".

Senator Clark (D-Mo) termed the postponement "a filibuster" against the resolution, sponsored by Senator Tobey (R-Vt).

Clark was reported to have advised the committee in a closed session that unless action was taken promptly, the census, scheduled to begin April 1, "will be over".

Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich) was quoted as saying that "if we keep on delaying like this we are going to have to rebuild all the jails in the country to hold the conscientious objectors to census questions".

Vandenberg was said to have given the committee a news report from Milwaukee stating that a federal warrant had been obtained against a Kenosha, Wis., shoe-repair shop operator on the ground that he had refused to answer questions in a government business census.

Tobey's resolution merely would advise the Census Bureau that it was "the sense of the senate" that the income questions should not be asked.

Seek Further Deletions

Tobey said that if the senate approved his proposal there was little doubt that the Census Bureau would strike out the questions.

The New Hampshire senator, who declared the queries would invade citizens' rights of privacy, was working on another resolution today designed to bring about deletions of additional questions from the census list.

Census Bureau authorities testified that the income questions were needed to gather information on unemployment and wage scales.

Today's committee vote was reported unofficially as follows:

For postponement—Sheppard of Texas, Caraway of Arkansas, Bilbo of Mississippi, Pepper of Florida, Lee of Oklahoma, Hill of Alabama, Mead of New York, Slattery of Illinois, all Democrats; and McNary of Oregon and Gibson of Vermont, Republicans.

Against postponement—Bailey, Clark, Overton of Louisiana, MacLoney of Connecticut, Democrats.

John Harding of Oregon,
Pleads Guilty to Fraud

(By The Associated Press)
Freepport, Ill., March 5.—John C. Harding of Oregon, Ill., pleaded guilty today in federal court to a charge of using the mails to defraud Louise Freese of Gary, Ind.

The government charged that under a promise of marriage Harding wrote asking her to send him her diamond ring for re-mounting and a $40-loan. The indictment said neither was returned.

Harding's application for probation was set for a hearing April 1. Dr. Edwin Wachlin, Apple River physician, who pleaded guilty in January to a charge of violating the narcotics act, was placed on probation for five years today by Federal Judge Charles E. Woodward.

SUSPENSE GRIPS
SHENANDOAH, PA.
SINKING IN MINE

Shenandoah, Pa., March 5.—(AP)—A strange calm—a mixture of suspense and stoicism—pervaded this coal town today in the aftermath of the most widespread series of cave-ins in the history of Pennsylvania's anthracite fields.

Less than 24 hours after rumbling noises and cracking walls sent them scurrying from homes, virtually all the 2,000 persons who evacuated a 16-block area were back home and in bed.

Warned the subsidence might continue sporadically for weeks and possibly months while their homes slowly sank into the earth, the folks who know the hard toil of the mining and the peril of cave-in took steps to recover damages tentatively estimated at $1,000,000.

There were many who joked about an experience not uncommon in the world's greatest hard coal fields, but never before so significant in scope.

Grimly Concerned

But others, householders mostly, found it difficult to jest. They were grim and concerned for the welfare of loved ones as they awaited a town meeting tonight.

Meantime, Governor Arthur H. James pushed an inquiry into the disturbance that took no lives, but played havoc with property—homes and business buildings—ruptured gas mains, buckled streets and impaired water service.

Chief victims of the subsidence were a dozen persons sickened by escaping gas fumes.

Rushing here from the state Capitol at Harrisburg, James directed state officials and mine company experts to tour today the honeycomb of mine tunnels beneath Shenandoah, which is situated on a mountain slope.

Pledged Federal Aid

The governor was unable to say what property owners could reasonably expect in the way of reparations. "The state has jurisdiction," he explained, "only over mine matters that affect the safety of miners".

National agencies were enlisted to contribute aid. The American Red Cross dispatched an investigator from Washington, where Senator Joseph F. Guffey, Pennsylvania Democrat, announced he had been promised help from the Bureau of Mines and the Federal Works Agency.

Woman Testifies She Witnessed Shooting

Marion, Ill., March 5.—(AP)—Mrs. Iva Vaughn testified in circuit court here today she saw Melvin Roberts, 50-year-old Marion ex-convict, fire the three shots that killed Arthur Monroe Howard here Dec. 13, 1932. Roberts is on trial on a charge of murder in the slaying.

The witness told a jury qualified to return a death verdict that she was passing the home of Newman Phaup, scene of the shooting, when she saw Roberts walk to the porch and shoot at Howard as the victim opened the front door.

Mrs. Vaughn did not testify last month in the first trial when Roberts was convicted. The verdict was set aside and a new trial was ordered by Circuit Judge D. F. Runney on the grounds that improper evidence was presented.

The defendant was on parole when the shooting occurred and he was returned to the southern Illinois penitentiary as a parole violator before being tried on the murder charge seven years later.

Utility companies and property owners today estimated in the millions the damage left by the worst rain and sleet storm to visit the North Atlantic seaboard states in a quarter of a century.

Public and private emergency crews worked all night to patch economic life lines—crippled communication and power systems, interrupted fire-alarm circuits, and blocked traffic.

The most apparent damage was in northern New Jersey, New York City and suburban Westchester county and Long Island areas which were on the fringe of the $500,000,000 storm of 1933, the greatest in the history of the nation.

Committee of Senate Against Invocation of Neutrality Statute

Washington, March 5.—(AP)—Senator George (D-Ga.) disclosed today that a foreign relations subcommittee had voted unanimously against proposals to invoke the neutrality act in the Finnish-Russian and Sino-Japanese conflicts.

The subcommittee, of which George is chairman, agreed there was no present need for application of the act. George said that American neutrality was not at stake in the hostilities, and that none of the four nations actually had declared war.

A resolution directing the President to apply the act in the Far East had been offered by Senator Gillette (D-Iowa), while Senator Danaher (R-Conn) had proposed its imposition in the Finnish-Russian fight.

When the act is applied—as it has been to Great Britain, France and Germany—a designated belligerent must pay cash for purchases in the United States and must transport them on non-American ships.

SENATE'S FIGHT
OVER EXTENDING
HATCH ACT WARM

Would Outlaw Political Activity by All Paid
by Federal Funds

Washington, March 5.—(AP)—Senator Minton (D-Ind) declared today that expansion of the Hatch anti-politics law to include state employees paid partly by federal funds might give the federal government opportunity "to control" purely state elections.

He brought up discussion of this question in the Senate soon after Senator Hatch (D-NM) started off debate on an amendment to the law. Hatch said the amendment would prevent political activity by state employees paid in part from federal funds, just as the law already bars federal employees from engaging in such activity.

Minton asked whether Hatch believed the federal government had any control "over a purely state election, in which only state officers are to be elected."

Hatch replied that the government had jurisdiction only over elections in which federal officials were to be elected. But, he said, the government had a right to prevent political activity by state employees paid partly from federal funds. The latter Hatch argued, "are, in reality, federal employees, because they would not be there except for the federal grants."

"Then," Minton countered, "the government has no power to control a state election under the Constitution, but it may grant of withhold funds in an effort to control state elections."

Minton asked whether the government could "use one of its powers in order to coerce state employees in a field where it has utterly no jurisdiction?"

Hatch said he would prefer to finish his explanation of the amendment before replying to detailed questions. Minton agreed to this.

Would Strengthen Law

Hatch said his studies had led him to believe that Congress had never exercised its full powers to insure the honesty of elections.

"If it were left to me," he said, "I would prefer legislation far more stringent, far more reaching than the original law or the pending amendments."

The House, meanwhile, continued discussion of the appropriation bill for the interior department, on which a vote is expected to be taken about Friday.

At the White House, administration leaders in Congress said after a conference with President Roosevelt that a $15,000,000 item to finance initial construction on a third set of Panama Canal locks would be restored to another pending money measure if it could be

Former Federal
Attorney, Three
Negroes Indicted

Chicago, March 5.—(AP)—A special federal grand jury today indicted three negro brothers, described by investigators as big time policy wheel operators, on charges of evading more than $1,000,000 in income taxes and accused an attorney and former federal official of aiding them.

The indictment charged Edward P. Jones, 43, whom government investigators called "the colored king of the Chicago policy racket", with attempting to evade taxes of $803,650.33 for the years 1933 to 1938, inclusive.

His brother, McKissack McHenry Jones, was accused of evading taxes of $123,497.77 for the same years and another brother, George P. Jones, with evading $93,306.49 for the years 1933 to 1937.

Attorney Named

The grand jury charged Thomas R. Gilson, a former federal deputy collector of internal revenue and now a practicing attorney, with aiding and abetting the Jones brothers in the alleged evasions.

United States Attorney William J. Campbell said the headquarters for the Jones' operations were at 4711 S. Michigan avenue where the average day's "take" was $10,000 and frequently amounted to $15,000. Campbell said bets from one cent up were taken from about 60,000 customers on Chicago's south side and adjoining areas and that there were three lottery drawings every 24 hours.

Gilson, named in each of the three indictments against the Joneses, was accused of aiding and abetting them during three years when he was a federal employee and for three years thereafter. He resigned from government service in 1936.

Government agents said of the Jones brothers:

Sons of Minister

They were the sons of a late negro minister and came to Chicago 20 years ago from Mississippi. All were employed as dining car waiters for a railroad when Edward led the way into the policy business.

All are fond of horseback riding. Edward is a "fancy dresser and takes pride in rarely wearing the same suit twice". He makes frequent trips to France, taking his automobile with him, and rents a villa at Cannes for the season.

The brothers own a tailor shop in a department store, the agents said, and Edward possesses "many gilt edge securities, including Un-

Dixon Scouts to Benefit by Band
Concert March 19

Officers of the Dixon Lions club today announced the closing of a contract with the music department of Coe college at Cedar Rapids, Iowa, which assures the appearance of the 65 piece college band in a concert at the Dixon high school auditorium on the evening of March 19. The band will be on its annual spring tour of several mid-western cities and will make its first appearance before a Dixon audience.

The Boy Scout organization of Dixon is to benefit by the appearance of the famous college band, the Lions club officers stated. Recently the club which is very active in Dixon civic interests, sponsored the "orphaned" Boy Scout troop, No. 89, which was suddenly left without a meeting place or a sponsor. Through the prompt action of the Dixon Lions, the strong veteran Scout organization was saved from being disbanded and is now proud of its gracious sponsor and very suitable headquarters.

The proceeds from the Coe college band concert are to be distributed to three Scout troops in Dixon. The troops are to benefit further in the advance ticket sale for this outstanding entertainment, which merits the support of citizens of Dixon and vicinity.

SOMETHING NEW! OAT FACTS!

(Worthy of Any Farmer's Careful Consideration)
Vanguard Rust Resistant Crossbred Seed Oats

The secret of its success is—Stem Rust Resistant—A deep root system 12 to 14 inches, which gets the moisture—Has stiff straw and will stand up—thin husks and large kernels are exactly what you'll get in Vanguard. It's medium in height and medium early! YIELDED FROM 60 to 102 BUSHELS PER ACRE IN THE CORN BELT! Proof of this yield verified by testimonial letters in our files from farmers of the corn belt. You may see them for the asking.

Vanguard comes in three-bushel bags, sealed by the Canadian government, and control certificate tags are attached. Requires 1½-2 bushel seed per acre. There is less than six weeks until seedling time. Investigate and order now! (Native oats are inbred, run out and go down—poor in yield and quality).

DON'T OVERLOOK THIS!

VANGUARD outyielded other oats 20 to 40 bushels per acre in 1939. You sow 3½ bu. to 4 bu. of native oats, at a cost of $1.50 per acre, and get only 30 to 50 bushels per acre in return. Vanguard costs $3.50 per acre and yields 50 to 90 bushels. Take the market price—figure 20 to 40 bushels more per acre—then you can realize the difference Vanguard offers. Common multiplication proves it pays to sow Vanguard Rust Resistant Seed Oats.

Farmers who grew VANGUARD oats last year are keeping the seed they need and selling the balance left to their neighbors at two and three times the market price. Farmers very seldom have a chance to sell the grain they grow above the market prices. It will pay to be one of the first to grow VANGUARD. It can be kept and reseeded from four to five years.

Ogle County Farmers Meet to Study Conservation Methods

Six farmers, Frank Weller, Harry Davis, Robert Lacher, Harold Hanes, Robert Buford and Dwight Price have attended a series of four weekly meetings to study soil conservation on their farms. These meetings have been held in the homes of these cooperators: Roy H. Tomlinson, conservationist, John F. Hayden, Camp Supt., and Ed Musselman, foreman, members of the technical service, CCC camp Oregon, have aided in the study.

These farmers own and operate 1364 acres of land in Pine Creek township, Ogle county. Their farms lay in a contiguous group and all are cooperating with the Federal Soil Conservation service to control erosion in this neighborhood.

Valuable Part of Land
These farmers became convinced that the top soil, the most valuable part of their land was rapidly washing away and that they should do something about it individually and as a group, so they asked the Soil Conservation Service for assistance in applying soil conserving practices.

Mr. Davis spoke for the group when he said, "I'm tired of seeing the fertility and soil wash away." Then he went on to say, "After making a trip to the Freeport Project and seeing the soil conserving practices demonstrated there and talking to the farmers using them I became convinced that I should be farming on the contour across the slope, strip cropping, using grass drainage ways and sod flumes to save my top soil and increase my yields."

Water running from one farm across another has made these farms located on a watershed the logical basis for complete soil and water conservation methods to be established. The group has succeeded in including all the land in the watershed which increases the effectiveness of the individual farm methods.

Demonstration Unit
This neighborhood area has been set up as a demonstration unit to show new methods of farming to save the soil and fertility and to prevent erosion, formation of gullies and ditches. Demonstrations in the area will include the following practices. Contour farming or farming on the level across the slope to prevent erosion. Lime-stone will be added and legumes and grasses increased to increase the organic matter content of the soil. Terraces, which are a low flat ridge constructed across the slope are most practical on some fields. Gullies will be bladed in and seeded with the steeper slopes sodded.

Permanent concrete structures will be built where needed and the smaller gully heads will be sloped and sodded. Severely eroded areas and land too rolling for crops or pasture will be planted to trees for timber and post production. Pastures will be improved by liming and reseeded.

These six farmers have made an intensive study of new farming methods suggested by the Soil Conservation Service and as a result understand how to use soil conserving practices. They are very enthusiastic about soil conservation and advocate it to their neighbors and friends.

Place Quarantine on Shipment of Peaches From 3 State Counties

Springfield, Ill., March 5. — (AP)—Director J. H. Lloyd of the state department of agriculture placed a quarantine yesterday on shipment of peach or nectarine roots out of three southern Illinois counties without a state permit. The counties are Marion, Gallatin and Johnson. Announcement of the quarantine.

tine, said some peach trees in the three counties were infected with a disease known as phony peach disease. Last year 13 counties were similarly quarantined.

Director Lloyd's order followed a proclamation by Governor Horner listing the states of Alabama, Arkansas, Georgia, Florida, Louisiana, Mississippi, South Carolina, Tennessee and certain counties in Missouri, Kentucky and North Carolina as infected areas.

This proclamation makes it unlawful to transport into Illinois peach or nectarine roots or trees without an inspection certificate from an authorized official in the state of origin.

Plan Anniversary Week, Camp for Dixon Girl Scouts

Preliminary plans for observing Girl Scout Anniversary Week and for the 1940 season at Camp Ralston were discussed at the monthly meeting of the Girl Scout Council yesterday morning. Mrs. W. A. McNichols of 916 East Fellows street, the commissioner, was the morning's hostess.

Mrs. Philip Reilly, camp chairman, announced that Camp Ralston would be opened on June 23 for a six-week period. Miss Kathryn Harrington, Girl Scout director, reported there are now 20 active, organized Scout troops in Dixon, with a total membership of 295 registered Scouts and Brownies.

During Anniversary Week, March 10-16, Sunday services for Protestant girls will be held at the Methodist church at 10:30 A. M. Practice will be held on Saturday at 1:30 P. M. Girls who do not attend the Methodist church must obtain, in accordance with the organization's national policy, the written permission of their parents to participate.

Catholic girls will attend the 8 o'clock mass at St. Anne's church, where Communion will be observed. They will meet for rehearsal at 11 A. M. Saturday.

All Scouts will be asked to wear their uniforms during Anniversary Week, especially on Sunday morning. It is suggested that those who have outgrown their uniforms might leave the costumes at the Scout office to be sold. Exhibits, in keeping with the projects that the various troops have been developing in regular meetings, will be displayed in downtown windows on Monday afternoon, March 11.

Girl Scouting's birthday will be celebrated on Tuesday, March 12. Members of Troop Five plan to celebrate the occasion with a party for their mothers, to be held at North Central school.

TEA COURTESY

Mrs. John Wilson McKim of Sheboygan, Wis., the former Miss Ann Templeton of this city, and Miss Elizabeth Hungate of Sterling, whose marriage to Karl Wentzel is to be solemnized this spring, were sharing a party complement Saturday afternoon, when Mr. McKim's mother, Mrs. Wilson McKim of Morrison, entertained at tea from 4 to 6 o'clock.

Mrs. McKim's mother, Mrs. Justus Stevens Templeton of Dixon, was in the receiving line.

BETA SIGMA PHIS

A program arranged by Miss Alice Crandall, assisted by the Misses Dagmar Peterson and Frances Crowley, was presented at last evening's meeting for Beta Sigma Phi of Gamma Mu chapter. Miss Lois Odett, the chapter president, conducted the business meeting.

Chicago Artists Will Appear Here

John Neher, bass-baritone, (right), and David Moll, violinist, who will present a joint program at 8 o'clock Monday evening in the Dixon high school auditorium, under auspices of the Dixon Concert League. Both young artists are Chicagoans.

Troubadettes Are Dinner Guests

Members of the Troubadette women's chorus, who presented a vesper service a week ago at the Presbyterian church, omitted their weekly rehearsal last night in favor of an evening of relaxation at Mrs. Robert C. Brewster's attractive new home on Second street.

A 6:30 o'clock scramble supper was followed by discussion of plans for the remainder of the season. Afterward, tables were formed for bridge games and Chinese checkers.

Mrs. Brewster and Miss Francis Patrick received score favors in bridge, and Miss Helen Slick won honors in checkers. Others attending were Mrs. E. M. Goodsell, Mrs. Lyle Prescott, Mrs. Wilbur Schreiner, Mrs. Edward Gerdes, Mrs. Ellis Kugler, Mrs. H. V. Luke, Mrs. William G. Bartholmes, Mrs. I. B. Potter, Mrs. Elsie Ritzman, Mrs. Archie Brown and daughter Beverly, and the Misses Goldie Albright, Virginia Jane Lund, Lucile Miller, Winona Lehman, Lenore Schwab, Lois Stimeling, Frances Crawford, Olive McClanahan, and Ruth Leydig.

Next week's rehearsal will be postponed until Tuesday evening, because of the Dixon Concert League program on Monday night.

WA-TAN-YANS TO HAVE ELECTION

Dixon Wa-Tan-Yans will be balloting for new officers when they hold their annual business meeting Thursday evening at the Hotel Dixon. Dinner will be served at 6:45 o'clock. Miss Kathryn Harrington, chairman of the hostess committee, will accept reservations at telephone No. R1146, not later than Wednesday evening.

THEATER-LUNCHEON

Mrs. G. Van Inwegen has arranged a theater-luncheon for tomorrow in Rockford. After luncheon at the Hotel Nelson, the party will attend the show, "Gone With the Wind." Invited are Mesdames J. W. Lehman, Mrs. Ben B. Billinger, and Mrs. Marie Ma-teer and her sister.

SOUTH DIXON UNIT

L. V. Slothower of the Dixon high school agriculture department will speak on "Poultry" at a meeting which members of the South Dixon Farm Bureau will hold at 8 p. m. Friday in the Eldena church. Special music will be included in the entertainment, and refreshments will be served.

PARTY GUESTS

Mr. and Mrs. William Hanson and their little daughter, Sandra Ann, were in Rockford on Sunday, attending a family dinner party honoring Mr. Hanson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Hanson, who were celebrating their thirtieth wedding anniversary.

AFTERNOON UNIT

Mrs. Hannah Miller and Mrs. Leon Miller have invited members of the Dixon Afternoon Home Bureau unit to their home on rural route 3 for a silver tea at 1:30 P. M. Friday.

POST-NUPTIAL PARTY

Mr. and Mrs. William Hollingsworth of Dixon, who were married recently, were complimented with a picnic dinner and variety shower on Sunday at the Ray Elgin home at Sterling.

Names on the MacMurray honor roll include only students who are taking more than 14 hours of academic work, and who have received a grade average above "B plus" for all of their studies.

Miss Jane Ford Is Party Honoree

Miss Marian Andrews of 1024 Highland avenue arranged a miscellaneous shower and bunco party last evening in compliment to Miss Jane Ford, whose marriage to Fred Moore is to take place later this month. The bride-to-be is a daughter of the William Fords of 311 East Fellows street, and her fiancé is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred H. Moore of 822 Hennepin avenue.

The Misses Phyllis Andrews and Mary Jane Lambert won honors in bunco. Others circling the tables were the Misses Elizabeth Ford, Jane Tofte, Jean Ford, Anna Marie Crabtree, Jane Ford, and Dorothy Stauffer.

Miss Ford is employed at Elizabeth's Beauty shop. Mr. Moore is an office employee of the Illinois Northern Utilities company.

GLENN ROSBROOK IS TWO YEARS OLD

A variety of amusing favors delighted 12 young party guests Saturday afternoon, when Mrs. Glenn Rosbrook entertained in honor of the second birthday anniversary of her son, Glenn George. Hats, noise-makers, and Mickey Mouse masks were fun for the group until time for the birthday lunch, when each guest was presented with a balloon and a cotton Easter rabbit.

Pink and white appointments trimmed the refreshment table. Guests included Paul LeFever, Eugene McMillion, Donald Lawson, Jr., Neil Harmon, Georgiana Stiles, George Rumpf, Jr., Harold Wiggins, Marjorie Wickler, Billy Gaul, DeOnne Woodvatt, Susan Curtis, and Samuel Berard, Jr.

GEORGE WASHINGTON SAID:

"Excessive partiality for one foreign nation and excessive dislike of another cause those whom they actuate to see danger only on one side, and serve to veil and even second the arts of influence on the other. Real patriots who may resist the intrigues of the favorite are liable to become suspected and odious, while its tools and dupes usurp the applause and confidence of the people to surrender their interests." From the Farewell Address.

When War Intrudes

Suppose you are a citizen of almost any country at war. You are getting along nicely at your factory job, or you are bending over a sheaf of papers in your office when the memorandum comes. It says tersely, as if you are expected to understand: "Effective immediately, working hours will be extended to 60 each week and wages for hours worked above 40 will be subject to a 40 per cent levy."

Or maybe it isn't a memorandum. Perhaps it's an official government envelope that tells you where to report for military service that will net you anywhere from 2 cents to $1 a day, depending on what army you're in.

However it hits you, you know that it has come. The war that you knew your country was in, has, at last, come right up to your own front door. For a while you say to yourself, "That's all right. I've got to do my part. I've got to help my country fight dictatorship, or communism, or imperialism, or mesmerism or something, whatever it is." And you kick in. You fight and get wounded or you work at home under the fear of being bombed.

After you've begun to get a little tired of feeding your family one pound of meat a week, cutting down on smokes when you need them most, dragging your tired frame home each night through blacked-out streets, you begin to wonder what it's all about—what are you doing it for, anyway?

So you get together with some other people who feel the same way and you ask yourself: "What are you doing it for? You're not good for anything and couldn't you have just a little more pay to meet the prices that are shooting too high. And somebody pats your forehead and says with a kind of pious sigh, "C'est la guerre," or "England expects every man to do his duty," or "My country, right or wrong."

That's the way it works, no matter what side you're on. When war is vague, the slogans and the band music sound good, but when it hits you right in the middle—that's different. That's why French labor is asking for better pay, shorter hours. That's why British women are uneasy about their rights. That's why German workers are beginning to grumble a little, if they think no one's listening. It takes a lot of hating to keep up a successful front at home.

Short Skirts and Crops

Brushing aside purely esthetic considerations, the farmers of the land would give a joyful whoop if the distaff part of the population would abandon short skirts and sylph-like figures.

Men of the soil have an eye for a well-turned ankle or a luscious curve, but there are things more important in life than beauty. Their crops, for instance. Just because skirts have crawled up to the knees, cotton growers are missing sales of a million bales a year, according to the U. S. Census Bureau. And the cornmeal consumption per capita has dropped from 117 pounds annually to 21 pounds—just because the girls would rather look willowy than billywag. Same for buckwheat.

Farmers aren't expecting anyone to do anything about the situation right away. They're just waiting hopefully. They know all about the vicissitudes of feminine fashions.

Fathers Learn About Babies

This had to happen sooner or later.

It is reported that the Maternal Welfare League of Woman's Clubs in Memphis, Tenn., has inaugurated a four-lesson training course for expectant fathers. The curriculum comprises a lot of details about care and feeding of infants that fathers have heretofore pretty generally taken for granted. Among other things, the students will be taught how to persuade a baby to let the family sleep at night, which is something most people believed pediatricians hadn't solved yet.

If nothing else, the course will prove to flittery male parents that youngsters don't just grow like the "Flowers That Bloom in the Spring." They've got to be cared for with the precision of laboratory technique.

More to Come

Mrs. Elinor M. Herrick, regional director of the National Labor Relations Board in New York, said she was "furious" when she discovered that the topic of a speech she was to deliver under sponsorship of the New York Labor Club had been advertised as "Labor and the 1940 Elections." Mrs. Herrick withdrew from the radio program for which she was scheduled, after pointing to the recently adopted Hatch act which forbids political activity on the part of any federal officeholder.

"I happen to take my laws seriously," she said. "One wonders how many other political job-seekers are going to take the law seriously when the campaign gets hot. The Hatch act is pretty specific—but the temptation to mingle in politics may become pretty strong."

Saying Goodnight

The natural tendency of young men in love to linger a bit over farewells before relinquishing their gal for the night has been recognized officially.

The police committee of the Minneapolis city council recommended one-hour parking between 2 and 6 a. m. to give a fellow a chance to say goodnight properly. An hour isn't a lot when a couple of youngsters are That Way about each other, but it will do.

If the law gets by, it will simply be a benevolent way of putting official sanction on something the whole militia in any city or state couldn't stop anyway.

NEWS BEHIND THE NEWS

By PAUL MALLON

(Distributed by King Features Syndicate, Inc. Reproduction in whole or in part strictly prohibited.)

Washington, March 4:—Cordell Hull is the only public man—maybe the only person in the United States—who has not taken a public stand on the New Deal. The mystery horse in the 1940 race has functioned actively in the number three peg of this administration for three years, without expressing his opinions openly on the hot issues of the day.

His position as secretary of state has put an international cloak around him. He has sat at cabinet, close to the inner workings of the reform revolution, without being required to speak out about it, or wanting to. He did not want to because his fixed purpose was the perfection of reciprocal trade agreements abroad. He was wisely determined to keep both his purpose and himself from getting involved in domestic politics.

But it is possible to gauge what kind of a president he would make by the positions he has taken in private at cabinet, and the warm discussions he has had with the associates at New Deal firesides. These are herewith presented, I believe, for the first time:

Hull is of the Woodrow Wilson school of liberalism which is somewhat different from the Franklin Roosevelt college. If he gets into the White House, he will surprise the country. He would, for instance, first bundle Messrs. Corcoran, Cohen, Ickes, Frank and the leftists of the administration in a bag and throw them into eternal oblivion. He has brushed them off his desk occasionally with the back of his hand (his bellum scuffle with Ickes). His desk-side comment concerning some of their activities has been caustic. Yapping against business has been particularly painful to him.

Hull's is a more orderly liberalism. He would oppose spending and unbalanced budgets, but not sweep them away with one sharp stroke. He believes that a positive program of encouragement of capital business expansion is necessary. These lines of thought have not been whipped into definite remedial measures in his mind, but apparently he would go a little farther than the administration has gone.

A point upon which he has strong personal opinion is the chaotic legal condition of government boards, like the Securities Exchange Commission and the National Labor Relations Board. Neither government nor business now knows what either can do under laws which are so broad as to be unintelligible. If the boards cannot lay down simple rules of conduct which everyone can understand, Hull would move to make their authority specific.

Relief is another question to which Hull has given some thought. Now a person cannot get relief until he falls off the economic map, and the system keeps him off. Hull thinks regulations should be changed to keep the man on relief ready for any private employment he can get. A distinction has also developed in his mind between needs in cities and rural communities. In his home state, for instance, he foresees the necessity of substituting partial for full-time relief in most rural areas.

This man is no utility baiter. He favors the Tennessee Valley Authority, but is strongly opposed to its expansion as a national socialistic policy.

His position on agriculture is not yet apparent. Working arrangements lately with Secretary of Agriculture Wallace suggest he might follow the established path.

He favors social security, the orthodox liberal doctrine of highest income and surtaxes, and general principles of wages and hours.

This seems to establish him as about 66 2/3 per cent New Deal, but a man with ideas of his own. Some third term exponents have been harking at his liberalism, but his record in congress shows he was the author of the first inheritance tax law, voted for child labor laws, federal reserve law, Clayton anti-trust law, federal trade commission act.

For sound or pictures his rating is not the highest. On screen and stump his fixed facial expression and drawing delivery would never inspire revolution, but he is an exceptionally clever public man. The way he worked on congress for renewal of his reciprocal trade agreements this season was worthy of a Roosevelt. Sixty days ago there was a strong senate majority against him. Opposition of the dairy and cattle regions was almost bitter. Through Wallace he lined up the American Farm Bureau Federation, most powerful of farm lobbies. Then he got the League of Women Voters and the American Association of University Women excited about domestic prices (only remotely connected with the current issue), and they in turn promoted pressure among left wing consumers organizations. This turned defeat into what even the Republicans now concede to be apparent victory.

His speaking appearance falls by many miles to give an accurate impression of how much he knows, but this may prove a pleasant contrast. He is quick tempered but not impetuous. Practically everyone in Washington likes him, due mainly to respect for his integrity and character. At 69 (he will be 70 in October) he is in excellent health.

His chance rests largely with Roosevelt. He has no organization or national political following like Farley, Garner, or even McNutt. If he is chosen it must be upon Roosevelt's recommendation or by a compromise between Roosevelt and Farley (who is a good friend of Hull's) and Garner.

His prospects look fairly bright. Third terms are promoting the impression that Roosevelt is the only man to handle the present international problem. This is manifestly a glib political strategy not based on fact. Practically all the candidates are capable, but in addition Hull has been proving his capability in this respect for years.

What he would do for world peace as president is evident from his own words:

"If I were president of the United States I should, at a later and suitable date, propose to the governments of all commercial nations that at the close of the present European war an international trade conference be held in the city of Washington for the purpose of establishing a permanent international trade congress, the function and duty of such congress to comprise the consideration of all international trade methods, practices, and policies which in their effects are calculated to create destructive commercial controversies or bitter economic wars, and to formulate agreements with respect thereto, designed to eliminate and avoid the injurious results and dangerous possibilities of economic warfare, and to promote fair and friendly trade relations among all the nations of the world."

He said this in a speech before the house, July 8, 1916, and is repeating it in private today.

Next week: What kind of president would he make? Garner.

Church News

METHODIST CHURCH
The fifth of a series of mid-week Lenten service will be held at the First Methodist church tomorrow evening at 7:30 p. m. There will be a fellowship supper in charge of Circle 2 of the Ladies Aid society. Following the supper a chapel Lenten service will be held in charge of the pastor, Rev. Floyd L. Blewfield. The subject of the meditation will be "An Important Question Asked by a Great Leader of Bible Times." Those who do not care to attend the supper will be welcome at the service which begins at promptly 7:30 o'clock.

BETHEL CHURCH
There was a full house out to hear the evangelist last night. The message was one of the best on Bible prophecy. Two more were added to the list of decisions for Christ, after the service was dismissed.

In order to make it possible for more parents to enjoy the blessings of the revival, a nursery will be provided for the small children from tonight on to the close of the revival.

The evangelist speaks tonight on the seven-fold message that must be preached before the return of Christ.

All members of the church are urged to be present these last few nights of the campaign, and the public is welcome and invited.

The message in song by Mrs. Vanderjagt and Betty May are proving to be a great blessing. Rev. Vanderjagt has won his way into the hearts of God's people by his splendid gospel messages and many will be sorry to see them leave Dixon, but other engagements will make it necessary to close the campaign here Sunday.

Sea Scout News
Sea Scouts of Ship No. 567 will meet at six bells (7 o'clock) this evening at headquarters. Mate Earl Charvat will be in charge of the program.

Deaths

Local—

FRANCIS B. SMITH

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Smith, Mrs. Mark Smith and son Walter, motored to Belvidere yesterday where they attended the funeral of Francis B. Smith, a former resident of Dixon and Palmyra.

The deceased was a brother of Roy Smith and the late Mark D. Smith and will be remembered by many of the older residents of Dixon. His death occurred Saturday afternoon at the Highland hospital at Belvidere, where he was removed after having suffered a stroke. He had been in ill health for several years.

Mr. Smith was born in Rock City, Pa., and came west to this locality when a boy, living on a farm in Palmyra township for some years, and later making his home in Dixon. About 36 years ago he went to Rockford and later to Belvidere where he had resided for the past 32 years. He is survived by his widow, a son having preceded him in death two years ago. Funeral services were conducted at Belvidere yesterday afternoon with burial at that place.

MRS. D. T. DIERDORFF

Mrs. D. T. Dierdorff, wife of Rev. D. T. Dierdorff, passed away at their late home in Seattle, Wash., Saturday evening. They were formerly of Minot, N. D., Kingsley, Iowa and Franklin Grove, Ill. The body accompanied by Rev. Dierdorff and daughter Lola will arrive in Franklin Grove Thursday and services will be held at the Church of the Brethren there at 2 o'clock in the afternoon, with burial at that place.

Suburban—

BENJAMIN F. ALBRECHT

(Telegraph Special Service)

Ohio, March 5.—Benjamin F. Albrecht passed away at his home here Sunday afternoon at 1 o'clock, five and one half hours after he had suffered a paralytic stroke. He spent most of his life on a farm northwest of Ohio, retiring a few years ago to move to the residence of the late Mrs. Emma Jackson, which he purchased.

He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Lizzie Baumgartner Albrecht; a son, Glenn; two little grandchildren; two sisters, Mrs. Frank Keigwin and Mrs. Henry Baumgartner of Walnut; and one brother, Fred C. Albrecht of Ohio.

How still he lieth in his narrow bed!
The marks of rugged toil are on his face
And hands, folded so calmly in their place
Upon his quiet heart: the years have fled
And left a silver aureole on his head;
The lines of age are smoothed away, and now
The look of youth returning crowns his brow.
How peacefully he sleeps with naught of dread
That he must wake and hurry to his toil!
No fears of coming ill disturb his rest.
Nor thoughts of sorrow o'er his spirit sweep.
They lay him tenderly beneath the soil.
Ae gently press the sods upon his breast.
For lo! He giveth His beloved sleep!

FANFARE

By DON DANIELSON.

TRACK CONSCIOUS

With the basketball season narrowing down to the state tournaments next week, Coaches A. C. Bowers and Marvin Winger are getting track-minded these days and with the final flare of the basketball torch, the indoor practice for the cindermen will begin. A survey of the field holds promise of a fairly good season—but more can be told about that after the thinclads get outdoors and romp.

TICKETS ON SALE TODAY

Tickets for the sectional tournament at Rockford went on sale at the local high school this morning where a block of 235 has been received for the Dixon fans. A large aggregation of fans will follow their Dukes tomorrow night.

ONE MAN'S OPINION

Jim Laude, solemn Rockford coach, opined after the semi-finals of the Belvidere tournament, that his team would win the sectional wars to move up to the state meet at Urbana if they came through with Belvidere. That's taking a lot for granted, and ignoring Dixon, Hebron, Freeport and Belvidere—none of whom the Rabs can count as their easy prey. If you don't believe it—just watch.

REGISTERED OFFICIALS

Bob Underwood and Paul Potts are now registered members of the state association and will rule on football and basketball games around the neighborhood next season. The two Dixon athletes have already several assignments in prospect.

DIXON CAGERS LOSE

St. Mary's grade school team of Sterling won both the light and heavyweight games from the Dixon invaders over the past week end. The rival heavyweights won 46 to 17 and the ponies won 20 to 7. On the heavyweight squad for Dixon were McBride, Lawler, Callahan, Hennen, Whitebread and Pintary. Callahan scored seven points to pace the losers.

CAMERA SUBJECTS

The Dixon Knacks, winners of the local Industrial League and successful in their out-of-town campaign, will be camera subjects tonight at the high school gym.

KNACKS SMOTHER CRESTON CAGERS

The Dixon Knacks swamped the Creston cagers in an exhibition game last night in the grade school gymnasium at Rochelle where they ran up at 47 to 20 decision.

The Knacks dominated the play and the score in the first quarter which ended with a 17 to 8 lead. A total of 14 more points in the second can be to seven by the opponents, gave the Dixon team a 31 to 15 advantage at the intermission.

Six points in the third frame and ten in the last gave the Knacks their victory as the rivals were held to a free throw in the third stanza and to four points in the windup.

Al Boyd with six buckets and a charity shot was the high scorer of the game with a total of 13 points. Don Clark, also of the winners, counted six buckets for 12 tallies. Ulrich at center made 10. Leading the Creston chargers was Rand with three field goals and one free throw for seven counters.

The Knacks will play again at Rochelle next Monday night as the teams are selected for the forthcoming tournament of independents to be held in Rockford.

Purdue Wins Big Ten Crown
Dukes Go to Rockford Tomorrow NightBOILERMAKERS DEFEAT ILLINI
TO WIN CROWN

Indiana Is Second in Big Ten's Final Standings Of the Year

By TOM SILER

Champaign, Ill., March 5.—(AP)—Twenty-three years ago Purdue university hired young Ward Lambert to produce basketball champions. He's been doing just that ever since in a section where brilliant cage teams are common.

His Purdue team, studded with sure-shooting sophomores, took the Big Ten championship again last night, defeating Illinois, 34 to 31 to clinch the title in the season's finale—the 11th time the Boiler-makers have won or shared the crown during Lambert's regime.

Indiana university gave the Hoosier state a virtual sweep of top honors in the conference race by slapping Ohio State, 52 to 31, giving the Bloomington team second place in the campaign.

Both Purdue and Indiana shattered the season's team scoring mark of 512 points established by Purdue in 1934. Indiana amassed 519 points in winning nine of 12 games and Purdue 514 points in winning 10 of 12 games. Against all opposition Purdue won 16 games and lost four and Indiana, undefeated for two years outside the league, won 17 of 20 contests.

Purdue, needing a triumph last night to avoid sharing the title, got under the wire the hard way. They tossed away a seven point lead early in the game and saw the Illini cut loose with a devastating attack, paced by Capt. Bill Hapac, that left Purdue trailing by 10 points.

Illini Bottled-Up
Then with only 10 minutes left to play the Boiler-makers bottled the Illini, holding Hapac and his team mates to two points while they were getting 12 to tie the score at 31-all. Then sophomore Forrest Sprowl found the net for a field goal and free throw and the show was over.

Hapac, although watched like a hawk, managed to get 13 points, one more than Sprowl. This gave him a total of 164 points in 11 games, 20 points short of the all-time individual scoring record set by Purdue's Jewell Young, two years ago. Dick Klein of Northwestern finished second in the scoring race with 141 points, two ahead of Wisconsin's Gene Englund.

Klein got only four points as Northwestern defeated Iowa, 43 to 34 and Englund scored nine as Wisconsin swamped Chicago's cellar team, 46 to 31. Michigan defeated Minnesota, 43 to 32, in the fifth game of the night.

COMPETITION IN FOUR-BALL TOURNAMENT GETTING TOUGHER

Coral Gables, Fla., March 5.—(AP)—It's getting to the point where a couple of fellows have to birdie every other hole to win a match in the $5,000 international four-ball golf tournament.

Releb Guldahl and Sam Snead, who won it last year, where 11 under par for 36 holes yesterday—and still lost to Billy Burke and Craig Wood in the quarter finals.

Wood and Burke were 12 below par—that's an average of a birdie every third hole—to win, one up. Guldahl and Snead had led most of the way and were still one up three holes from home.

Wood promptly holed a 20-foot chip shot to square the match and Burke, rising to dramatic heights, surpassed that feat with a 60-foot chip to win the deciding hole.

Burke and Wood moved today against another dark-horse outfit, E. J. (Dutch) Harrison and Clayton Heafner, who did a neat 4 and 3 job on fourth-seeded Jimmy Demaret and Willie Goggin yesterday. Paul Runyan and Horton Smith, one of the most effective teams in this tournament's history, tackled Dick Metz and Ky Lafoon in the other bracket.

BIGGEST SURPRISE OF YEAR

Tampa, Fla.—(AP)—Manager Bill McKenchie of the Cincinnati Reds hardly knows what to do with himself since one of his "problem children" has left the club and the other has reformed.

Lee Givens is a problem for Joe McCarthy of the Yankees now, and Red Barrett, one of Bill's main worries the past two years, "has really set down to business."

A wife and baby may be the reasons, but McKenchie calls Red "the biggest surprise of the year."

Dixon Dukes Go Forth
To Rockford Sectional
With Pressue Released

Locals Will Meet Host Basketeers in the Second Game Tomorrow Night; Oregon to Lead Off With Stockton Quintet

GAMES TOMORROW NIGHT
7:30—Oregon vs. Stockton.
8:30—Dixon vs. Rockford.

Any crumbs from the rich man's table will be a meal to Dixon fans now who came away hungry and empty from the week end regional event as Sterling snagged the cake. However, with the opening of the sectional event at Rockford tomorrow night, the situation is still good, and in some ways better.

For one thing, the defeat by Coach Sharpe's Dukes who must meet the Rab hosts in the second game tomorrow night. The winning streak of 12 straight games was snapped and you don't have to be a strict Pollyanna to see the benefits in a loss once in awhile.

Although Sterling went home with the regional trophy the other night, Dixon stands just about where it was expected the Dukes would be in the sectional event, and coupled with the fact that Dixon still has a good team—what is there to fuss about, yet?

Hopes Are High
It isn't exactly whistling in the dark to believe the Dukes may still come through the sectional event. On the other hand, it must not be overlooked that the Rabs are a formidable foe and although they finished fifth in the Big Seven conference this year, they have some mighty impressive victories to their credit.

In the conference season the Rockford team won six and lost six for a .500 percentage. In the regional event at Belvidere the Rabs thumped the Boone county warriors, 46 to 24.

Dixon's foe of tomorrow night is the defending champion of the state. Heartening to the Dixon fans should be the memory of the Dukes' 33 to 22 victory over the Freeport Pretzels when the latter team had its best players on the roster before the mid-term cutting and they were in the midst of an impressive winning streak.

Freeport finally ended in second place in the Big Seven conference with eight wins and four defeats. Tempered By Upset
The Dukes, tempered by the Sterling upset, should meet the Rabs with measure for measure, and Coach L. E. Sharpe's boys have only to snap out of their slump, regain some measure of their confidence and composure and Coach Laude and his Rabs will have an evening they are not soon to forget.

Dixon's part in the sectional event will begin with the second game of the series as the tipoff is called for 8:30 in the Rockford Armory.

Leading off the sectional event will be the teams of Oregon and Stockton, two conference champions. The Hawks recently clinched the crown in the Rock River league and the Stockton crew went undefeated in the U. S. Grant competition. Oregon as regional winner is given an edge over the Stockton crew.

Other Participants
Four other members of the sectional event will complete the first round of games when the lower bracket teams play it out on Thursday night. In the first game that evening Hebron, a heavy favorite, will meet Mt. Morris, second place team in the Rock River conference; and in the nighttime at the Belvidere team will meet Freeport. The latter club, on the strength of its regional successes, is rated to win over the Boone county warriors, but Dixon fans know "pride goeth before a fall."

Joe Dimaggio receives second Yankee contract
San Francisco, March 5.—(AP)—"No, I won't leave before I sign," said the ex-squid Joe Di Maggio, "but I expect to leave Friday or Saturday," the New York Yankees outfield star indicated he had received a second contract nearer his salary demands, and said "everything will be all right." He was due last Sunday at the St. Petersburg, Fla., training camp.

The highest number of cattle ever reported in the United States was in 1934, when there were 14,300,000 head.

KNOW YOUR PLAYERS

Bill Moser

As the Dixon Dukes head in to Rockford for the sectional games tomorrow night with them will go Bill Moser, a fighting little forward who lifted himself right out of the lightweight squad this season into the ranks of the varsity by sheer determination, aggression and scoring ability.

If Coach Sharpe were permitted to start six men on the floor tomorrow night, Bill Moser would probably rate the sixth berth, so close has he come to rating a starting assignment.

In the past season Bill counted 40 points with the lightweight before he moved to the majors where he figured with 54 points before the regular season ended.

Bill figured prominently in the victory over Mendota with 14 points when he supplanted the ailing Ardell Bugg. In the second Mendota encounter he scored 13 tallies. Before his promotion to the varsity he had scored 15 points in the victory over the Freeport ponies.

Hartnett's Grin Carries from Cub Camp to Chicago

Chicago, March 5.—(AP)—The biggest grin in baseball—owned by Manager Gabby Hartnett of the Chicago Cubs—is setting a new transcontinental record this spring.

It's a pleasure to relay reports that Gabby is his old-time, jovial self once again and that his big smile is carrying some 2,500 miles from the Cub camp at Catalina Island back home to warm the hearts, hopes and tongues of even the most pessimistic Cub partisans.

Gabby's amazing reformation, on which bulletins are flowing in hourly, follows a season in which he established some kind of record for sustained sour-puss performance on the diamond. The Irish catcher just didn't have it last summer, meaning the smile. Neither did he have the hearty laugh which had delighted a million fans for 17 seasons.

Reason for Grin
Gabby had some reason for substituting the grimace for the grin. By April 29 the Cubs had slid to fourth place. By May 10 he'd shaken the club up nine times and benched Capt. Bill Herman, star second-baseman. By mid-June the Cubs were a half-game out of sixth place, with not a regular hitting .300.

Then Dizzy Dean cut loose with a speech before the association of commerce that did little to sweeten Gabby's sour disposition. Ol' Diz said the reason the Cubs weren't doing so well was that "Some of the fellas weren't trying." By the time Gabby had recovered from that one the season was over, the Cubs in fourth place and Hartnett on the carpet trying to explain things to Owner P. K. Wrigley.

Now Gabby is all sugar and honey once more and there is some local speculation on whether the absence of Jerome Herman Dean has anything to do with it. Dizzy is "a-settling" on his Texas farm, asking $15,000 and refusing $10,000 a year. Last season some of the Cub hands were irked no end when they realized they were toiling daily for about half the $20,000 of Diz received for appearing in 16 contests.

TO MAKE UP TIME

Bradenton, Fla.—(AP)—Casey Stengel, larked by the local ruling that kept his Boston Bees from Sunday practice and rain which gave them a half holiday yesterday, plans to make up time in today's drill. He has scheduled two sessions, including a nine-inning practice game.

Grade Schools Open Tourney Tomorrow Eve

GAMES TOMORROW NIGHT
5 P. M.—Harmon vs. Compton.
6 P. M.—Paw Paw vs. St. Mary's (Dixon).
7 P. M.—South Central (Dixon) vs. Lincoln (Dixon).
8 P. M.—North Central (Dixon) vs. Amboy.
9 P. M.—Ashton vs. Lee Center.

In a tournament just as important to them as the sectional is to the Dukes, the Lee county grade school basketeers will open play in the first round of their double elimination event tomorrow night in the Mills-Petrie Memorial gymnasium in Ashton.

Eleven teams, all fighting for at least one of the trophies to be presented by County Superintendent of Schools John A. Torrens, will participate in the series and ten of the clubs will see action tomorrow night.

Franklin Grove, as the eleventh team, will draw a bye in the first round. Starting the ball bouncing will be the teams of Harmon and Compton who meet at 5 o'clock.

Expect Large Crowd
The Ashton officials report that a capacity crowd of 600 is expected to attend the games in the centrally-located arena. Enthusiasm is running high and a full program of entertainment will be supplemented with the appearance of the Ashton Pep band each night. On Saturday evening when the championship is decided, the Ashton Drum and Bugle corps and the girls' drill team will perform between halves.

Paul Yoe and Dale Lizer of Mt. Morris are to be the game officials and Robert Dean and Coach Vaux will be the minor officials.

Four Dixon teams are slated for participation and all will play tomorrow night. The South Central cagers, champions of the city, will meet Lincoln of Dixon in the third game of the evening at 7 o'clock. St. Mary's of Dixon will play Paw Paw in the second game at 6 o'clock and North Central and Amboy will clash at eight o'clock. In the nightcap affair Ashton and Lee Center will play at nine o'clock.

At Carbondale—Herrin, known for its giant-killing feats against Centralia and Urbana, meets the favorite, Johnston City, in a first-round game that may decide the ultimate winner of the tournament. Cairo, Marion and Metropolis are other threats to Johnston City's big Indians.

At Centralia—Everyone will concede the home team, with 26 victories in 30 starts, the favorite's seat. But West Frankfort may press Centralia in the first game. DuQuoin, if it gets by Teutopolis Thursday night, will be a tough semi-final foe. DuQuoin, which beat Centralia recently, 41-40, has been nosed out of the past two sectionals by two point margins.

At Champaign—Five regional champions give this tournament unusual class. Every team here has won at least 64 per cent of its games, and the records range from Homer's 29 won and two lost to Paxton's 16 and nine. Clinton (21-5) meets Champaign (21-6), and Urbana (17-5) plays Homer in a dynamite-laden lower bracket that has no favorite. In the upper half, Hoopston (21-2) is rated above St. Joseph (20-5), Wapella (22-4), and Paxton.

At Elgin—Morton and Dundee staged one of the most exciting of sectional finals last March, and Thursday they're matched in the first round. Most of the participants in the 1939 struggle are back, including that game's two stars, Ed Parker of Morton and Kenneth Menke of Dundee. Waukegan and Waterman meet in another outstanding first-rounder. Sycamore, surprise conqueror of Waterman at the regional, and Glenbard, West Suburban champion, round out a group of six top-notch contenders.

At Highland—Wood River (25-3) and Granite City (22-5), champions of the strong south-western circuit, expect to get to the final contest. Every one of their three meetings to date has been a close game, and the fourth, if it comes, should provide one of the most thrilling sectional finishes in the state. Dark horses are O'Fallon (22-2) and Collinsville, the southwestern No. 3 squad.

At Joliet—A convention of champions finds Bloom, south suburban title-holder, in the upper bracket with Watseka, winner in the Waukegan league, while Bradley, the Kankakee Valley champion, is in the lower half with East Aurora, the Big Seven's premier squad. Bradley, because it won last year and because it has beaten Watseka twice in the three starts, will be favored again, but any survivor of this cut-throat competition will be a strong state contender.

At Lawrenceville—Flora exhibiting its best tournament form in bumping off Olney, 41-37, at the regional. Unless Casey Flat Rock or the beaten Olney team can muster new strength, Flora will be back at the state.

At Mattoon—Turlock got through the regional without Bill Huber last week. With the big guard ready again, Turlock will help to make this tournament a free-for-all. Mattoon's fast-improving team, Paris' touted speedsters, Windsor and Shelbyville all are strong.

At Quincy—Ever hear of Bluffs? This little town may represent a section of the state that is noted for its colorful little quintets. Milton and Hull in the past have established the tradition which Bluffs hopes to follow.

At Moline—Moline and Rock Island have been at each other hammer and tongs three times, the latter winning twice. They're Northwest co-champions, and they will be many a slip

Fort Myers, Fla.—(AP)—There will be many a slip during the Cleveland Indians' training, but Manager Oscar Vitt has planned it that way.

For the first time in more than 12 years, a sliding pit is part of the Tribe's training equipment. Teachers will be Ben Chapman, the club's outstanding base runner, and Vitt himself.

George Clinton took the oath of office as first Governor of New York State in 1777 while standing on an upturned barrel in front of the Kingston courthouse.

CAGE SCRAMBLE TO BEGIN WITH THE SECTIONALS

Pat Harmon Picks Hebron As Favorite Over Rabs, Freeport, Dixon

BY PAT HARMON

Champaign, Ill., March 5.

(AP)—Illinois' wildest basketball scramble in four years will go into the sectional stage tomorrow night when 15 tournaments have their opening.

Because no outstanding favorite exists among the 120 survivors, this year's race is mindful of the 1936 dash, which ended with a darkhorse Decatur team as champion.

Decatur is accounted a threat this year because of its 10-game winning streak, including the last seven starts on the regular schedule and three in last week's regional tournament. Normal also has a 10-game streak, while Homer has won 19 in a row. Here's the situation on the 15 sectional fronts:

At Carbondale—Herrin, known for its giant-killing feats against Centralia and Urbana, meets the favorite, Johnston City, in a first-round game that may decide the ultimate winner of the tournament. Cairo, Marion and Metropolis are other threats to Johnston City's big Indians.

At Centralia—Everyone will concede the home team, with 26 victories in 30 starts, the favorite's seat. But West Frankfort may press Centralia in the first game. expect to duel again in the finals of this sectional.
At Ottawawa—Normal and Streator, both in the upper bracket, headline this entry.
At Peoria—Here's a wide-open affair. Central (16-5) meets Woodruff (15-12), whom it has beaten twice by a total margin of four points. The winner may be softened up for Rushville (24-5), if the latter beats Latham as anticipated. Pekin (17-6), finding new strength in the return of Colombo Ghindri and Bob Robey, meets Manual (15-10) in a lower bracket, and here again the victor may find itself worn down for an expected joust with Lincoln.

At Rockford—The state champion, Rockford, is here, but Hebron (26-1) is the sentimental favorite. Last year Hebron pushed Rockford to a 39-34 verdict, hardest game the champs played in either sectional or state. This year Hebron's a giant instead of a giant killer and is favored over Rockford, Freeport and Dixon.

Garner Election Would Break Up Long Precedent

Washington, March 5—(AP)—

Vice President Garner would have to crack 104 years of historical precedent to get the Democratic nomination and be elected president.

Only one vice president since

John Adams, the one-termer who succeeded George Washington, has been elected under his own steam without first having been moved into the White House by the death of his running mate. That was Martin Van Buren, the New Yorker whom Andrew Jackson favored for the succession early in Jackson's first term.

Jackson came into office with a one-term pledge. John C. Calhoun, the South Carolinian whose term was about as short as Jackson's own, was vice president during that first term. It was Van Buren who helped to talk Jackson into forgetting about that one-term pledge. Van Buren became vice president in Jackson's second term and moved into the White House with the solid support of his predecessor.

Just as the bitter party battles of the Jackson era often have been compared by Democratic historians with those of President Roosevelt's two administrations, so are some historians taking the analogy farther and saying that the Democratic candidate of 1940 can not win without the paternal blessing of the president. The Garner candidacy has not yet been so blessed.

One other vice president in history has been nominated but not elected. He was John C. Breckinridge of Kentucky, named as the candidate of the southern Democrats in the fatal party split of

1860. Stephen A. Douglas of Illinois

was named by the other wing

—usually called the northern Democrats.

Abraham Lincoln and his new Republican party went through the middle and took the presidency.

Federal Judge John P. Barnes, before whom the indictments were returned, set bond at $25,000 for Edward P. Jones, $10,000 each for his brothers and $5,000 for Gilson.

Bench Warrants Issued

Bench warrants were issued for the arrest of all four.

The same grand jury last week indicted William R. Johnson, alleged top man in Chicago's gambling syndicate, charging he owed the syndicate $2,232,497 in tax, penalties and interest. Two indictments have been voted against

William R. (Billy) Skidmore, whom the government investigators described as a key man in gambling and associate of Johnson, and one against Andrew J.

(Red) Creighton, alleged manager for Johnson's gambling clubs.

The government alleged that

Edward P. Jones' gross income

during a six-year period was $1,

696,175 instead of the $313,694.31

which the defendant reported.

Tax Liens Filed

McKissack McKenry Jones, the indictments charged, had a gross income for the years 1933 to 1938, inclusive, of $589,723.35, whereas he represented his earnings as $313,775.10 the government alleged his total tax should have been

$182,103.94, whereas he paid only

$59,606.17.

The government charged that

George P. Jones' gross income from 1933 to 1937 was $454,891.48.

The defendant reported $232,572.

34. The U. S. said his total tax should have been $132,458.61 but that he paid only $39,152.12.

Campbell said other indictments

"in the policy racket" would follow.

While the grand jury returned the criminal indictments against the Jones brothers, Carter H. Harrison, internal revenue collector, filed civil income tax liens, aggregating more than $1,250,000 against them, a procedure which would enable the government to seize any property they may own or control. Their mother, Harriet

Jones, and various banks and trust companies also were named in the liens.

Extradition of Rural Instructor Wanted on Rape Charges is Asked

Farmers Will Attend Woodlot Meet Tomorrow

Farmers who have woodlots will be able to get many pointers on how to manage these lots for the greatest profit if they will attend the woodlot management demonstration meeting which the Ogle County Farm Bureau is holding at the J. O. Samelson farm two miles northeast of Oregon tomorrow afternoon. The program will begin promptly at 1:30 o'clock.

There will be pointed out by L. B. Culver, extension forester from the University of Illinois, the most practical use to make of certain trees according to variety and condition, what trees should be cut out and what should be left to make further growth, how to find the best market for timber that is ready to be cut, the effect of pasturing on the growth of young trees and other points of value to the man who has timber. The place of trees in control of soil erosion will also be discussed.

Mr. Samelson expects to have some poles ready for a chopping contest. Those who attend will be given an opportunity to enter in this contest and the winner will be given a prize of a new ax.

ELECTRICAL STUDY

The Ogle County Farm Bureau plans to have located on township maps all of the rural homes in the county that do not have electric service. Based on this information, the utilities companies serving the county will plan lines to serve all of those who wish to cooperate in the county area plan for electric service.

MOVING TIME

The first of March brings moving day for many farmers throughout the county and among those who have changed locations are Mr. and Mrs. Albert Widloff and family who have moved to West Brooklyn. They had been living on the C. W. Ross farm. They will occupy the Ross farm west of West Brooklyn and Howard Ross will move to the place vacated by the Widloff family. Mr. and Mrs. Harold Donnelly and family have moved from the Cole farm west of Amboy to Dixon route 4. Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Holliston and family moved to Dixon from the farm in Maytown and their farm will be occupied by Mr. and Mrs. James McCormick who moved there from the Daven farm.

PROPER CARE CAN PREVENT LOSS OF MANY SPRING PIGS

Millions of baby pigs are being born on thousands of Illinois farms about this time of year. Unfortunately, according to Robert Graham, head of animal pathology at the University of Illinois College of Agriculture, about 25 or 30 per cent or more of these pigs will die.

That's why it is so important that approved methods of swine management be used by farmers to prevent this loss, advises Graham. "Chilling, overfeeding and smothering may be prevented by use of stoves and guard rails. A disease where the pigs leave the nest and die with full stomachs may be caused by faulty feeding of sows during gestation periods. Pneumonia may follow chilling and can be prevented by dry, clean quarters. Thrushes caused by anaemia can be avoided by getting the pigs on the ground or putting appropriate iron solutions on the udders of sows.

"Disinfection of the hog houses and clean ground will prevent sore mouth and diarrhea in pigs. Simple preventive measures to keep newly born pigs away from contaminated premises, together with proper feeding methods, are the best insurance against prevailing pig diseases. Just before weaning, immunization against cholera will provide protection against this disease.

"Recent investigations have focused attention on a small round-worm infestation of the muscles of swine, causing a disease known as trichinosis. Swine harboring this parasite may not show symptoms of illness, but all pork should be thoroughly cooked to prevent trichinosis in man. Cooking of garbage will prevent this parasite from infesting swine. Since rats are susceptible to this disease, it is apparent that the increase in the number of rats in connection with large amounts of grain stored on farms may be a factor in perpetuating the disease on certain premises."

Cabbage was one of the kings this winter in the lower Rio Grande valley of Texas. The price ranges from $15 to $20 a ton and the yield was better than usual.

Funeral Service

Funeral services for Mrs. William Lovell, whose death occurred on Tuesday evening, February 27, were held on Saturday afternoon, March 3, at the Methodist church. Rev. Ralph M. Dreger conducted the services. Interment was made in the Ashton cemetery.

Obituary

Mrs. Hannah Ada Lovell was the daughter of Jacob and Lillian Vogel and was born October 4, 1895. She had attained the age of 44 years.

She obtained her early education in the Sanders school, and later she attended the Ashton high school, graduating with the class of 1912. Following her graduation she taught school for several years in the rural schools, and was a very successful teacher.

On February 1, 1919, Ada was united in marriage with William Lovell, and they farmed for many years in Bradford township. Later they moved to the Vogel home farm where the family has since resided.

To Mr. and Mrs. Lovell were born two daughters, Kathryn, who is a student at the Teachers college at DeKalb and Arletta Mae who is a junior in the Ashton high school. She is survived by her husband and daughters Kathryn and Arletta Mae, two brothers, Edison Vogel of Lafayette township and Earl of this city. A sister, Mrs. Neva Schafer preceded her in death. Mrs. Lovell was very ill at the time of her mother's death which occurred last May.

Mrs. Lovell united with the Methodist church in 1900 and was a very active member. During her membership she was very faithful in her duties to the church. Mrs. Lovell was a great lover of flowers, which she grew in great abundance. She found pleasure in bringing them to the church and also to the homes of those who were sick and shut in.

Those attending the funeral from out of town were Robert Fogie of Garrett, Pa.; Edison Fogie of Meyersdale, Pa.; Mrs. Clara Garrison, Mr. and Mrs. Glen Dysart, Mr. and Mrs. Leon Garrison of Dixon and Miss Minetta Schafer of Grand Rapids, Michigan.

Illinois, Wisconsin Sign Auto Agreement

Springfield, Ill., March 5.—(AP)—Illinois and Wisconsin have negotiated a reciprocal agreement giving passenger cars or other not-for-hire motor vehicles licensed in one state full privileges in the other.

The agreement also covers dealer, manufacturer and "drive-away" auto licenses.

Trucks engaged in a contract or common carrier business, and licensed in only one state, may cross the state line if they confine their operations to a municipality "at which point said vehicles enter either state." If they operate beyond the point of entry they are classified as interstate carriers.

Secretary of State Edward J. Hughes of Illinois and George Rickman, Wisconsin Commissioner of Motor Vehicles, signed the agreement.

Roosevelt's "Tommy the Cork" Married

Washington, March 5.—(AP)—A visit to the Laurentian mountains in Canada will be the honeymoon trip of Thomas G. Corcoran—President Roosevelt's friend "Tommy the Cork"—and his blonde bride.

The 39-year-old Corcoran was married yesterday afternoon at Leesburg, Va., to Miss Margaret J. Dowd, 27, who has been his secretary for seven years.

Father Joubert of the Dominican college, Washington, performed the ceremony in St. John's Catholic church. In the small group of relatives and friends attending was Benjamin Cohen, the other half of the Corcoran-Cohen team which has been credited with drafting much new deal legislation.

Sees Roosevelt's "Col. House" as Leading to AEF

Chicago, March 5.—(AP)—President Roosevelt's action in sending his undersecretary of state, Sumner Welles, on a fact-finding mission among the leaders of Europe's belligerent powers is opposed by Dwight H. Green as a "step that might well be the prelude to America's again entering a European war".

Green, who aspires to the Republican nomination for governor, told a meeting of ex-service-men last night that:

"We recently have been startled by a second Col. House now making flying visits about Europe. Standing hat in hand, without benefit of invitation, he is knocking on closed doors of Europe's chancelleries. To avoid a second A. E. F. being sent to Europe we had better recall the second Col. House."

Green also made a radio address in which he declared that the "best government is one that touches labor lightly".

"Every step that government takes toward regulation of labor or employers puts labor that much closer to absolute control by government."

On Opponents' Front
Richard J. Lyons, Green's opponent, and C. Wayland Brooks, who seeks the G. O. P.'s U. S. senatorial nomination, spoke in Decatur.

Lyons, contending that the state sales tax on food had increased to nearly $17,000,000 in 1939, declared: "That is $17,000,000 which the men and women of Illinois would have been able to use for food if it had not been taken from them to foot the bill for the most wasteful state administration we ever had."

Brooks, in advocating removal of government "shackles" from the transportation system, said that "more than 1,000,000 men would be added to the transportation service of railroads alone were the restrictions on railroads removed and railroad management permitted to render the service of which our railroad plants are capable."

George F. Barrett of Chicago, opened his campaign for the Republican attorney-generalship nomination with a meeting in his home ward. He promised to "end election frauds in Cook county if elected."

Sen. Taft to Speak
From the John Ericsson Republican League of Illinois came the announcement that Senator Robert A. Taft of Ohio, a candidate for the Republican presidential nomination, would address the organization's annual convention here next Saturday.

Meanwhile, on the Democratic side of the picture, the Garner-for-President forces discussed plans for a statewide organization following the arrival from Washington of Roy Miller, chairman of the national Garner committee.

A letter sent to county workers asserted that the central committee "is of the opinion that the third term issue will prove a vital one in this state and throughout the country."

In his first campaign address in southern Illinois, Harry B. Hershey, Democratic candidate for the governorship nomination, told a meeting in Marion that he would base his program as governor on "the positive and specific principles" of Governor Horner.

Without mentioning his opponent, Lieut. Gov. John Stelle, by name Hershey said:

"It cannot be denied that men within our party, motivated by disappointment or personal ambition, have injected into this campaign a regrettable note of dissension in an otherwise impregnable solidarity of Democratic strength. It may never be said truthfully, however, that the right of these men to become candidates has ever been questioned by us."

AGED WOMAN DIES IN FIRE

East St. Louis, Ill.—(AP)—A $50 fire, believed caused by a cigarette she had been smoking, was fatal to 79-year-old Mrs. Benita Menendez. A son told police his mother, who was discovered yesterday in a bed in flames, often smoked before her afternoon nap.

A speed of 90 miles an hour has been attained on skis.

PRIZES TO THE WINNERS

Attorney Knight Heads Committee for D. H. Green

Chicago, March 5.—William D. Knight, Rockford, who recently retired as president of the Illinois State Bar Association, has accepted the chairmanship of the downstate Lawyers' Committee for Dwight H. Green for governor, the Green headquarters announced today.

Knight, who served two terms as State's Attorney of Winnebago county and was president of the Winnebago County Bar Association, was one of the organizers of the American Legion in Illinois and for twenty-five years has been a nationally known football official for the Big Ten. Knight graduated from Dartmouth and took his law degree at Harvard. He is past president of the Illinois State's Attorneys Association and a member of the Dartmouth Alumni Council. He is a past senior vice commander of the Illinois Department of the American Legion and a past commander of the Walter R. Craig Post of Rockford.

"The alliance between crime and politics in Illinois threatens a breakdown of government", Knight declared in accepting the chairmanship for Green. "Its sinister effect is most pronounced in certain large cities. The way to restore the power and prestige of our courts and law enforcing bodies is to destroy the political machines that coerce and hamper them. Dwight H. Green is a candidate for governor who has fought the crime barons of Chicago and driven them to the Federal penitentiaries. The entire nation has applauded his fearless fight to break the combination between crime and politics."

"Ballot frauds, stolen elections, crooks on the highway police department, slush funds collected in open defiance of the state laws, parole scandals, Manteno and St. Charles breakdowns, all are but the outward evidences of politicians conniving with crooks to profit from the racket and gambling syndicates and perpetuate themselves in power."

"The election of Dwight H. Green as governor will put fear in the underworld and encourage honest officials to perform their duties. Green will give Illinois as efficient and able an administration as it has had in its history."

Continues to Gain
Confidence in the nomination of Green as the Republican candidate for governor is rampant in the La Salle Hotel Green headquarters here as downstate sources supplemented Cook County reports of his huge lead. Downstate organization polls continue to support the 3 to 1 margin shown by the Chicago Daily News and the University of Chicago independent survey.

Deneen Watson, state campaign manager, in a letter to local and county managers said: "Mr. Green continues to ride the crest of a triumphant ground swell in his downstate campaign and it has now become a contest between Cook county and downstate as to which will give Green the biggest plurality, with the nomination no longer in doubt."

Endorsements from prominent citizens and from independent organizations continue to pour into the Green headquarters. Most of them say: "We sincerely believe that you are the best qualified candidate. Each and every member (200) of our group has agreed to garner at least five votes for you before election day". This was the Independent Republicans of Evans-ton as forwarded by Ernest Fries, Jr.

Referring to the recent developments in the campaign, Watson pointed out that "activity in the camp of the opposition indicates that the handwriting on the wall is very clear. A panic-stricken resort to personalities is clear evidence of the turn the tide has taken. Mr. Green will continue his constructive analysis of the issues and will not stoop to personalities. That is what gave him his tremendous vote in the Chicago mayoralty campaign and that is what the people of downstate are demanding now."

that it is justifiable to say they might hold out the month or six weeks until the advent of spring—if they can get even a moderate amount of help from Norway and Sweden and the allies.

The Finns will pull another fat rabbit out of the hat if they are able to hang onto the Mannerheim line long after they lose Viipuri. This city of some 75,000—now abandoned by civilians and devastated by Russian bombs and shells—is the hub of all the numerous railroads and highways of this south-eastern section of Finland.

Virtually the entire Karelian isthmus is fed through Viipuri. This means that the famous Mannerheim line, which has done such magnificent service against the invaders, is supplied through Viipuri. The railroads and highways to the northwest of the city run into the Finnish industrial region. Other railways to the northeast feed the important zone north of Lake Ladoga.

If and when the Reds get full control of Viipuri they undoubtedly will start a push to the west against Helsinki, the capital. At the same time they will try to drive their way northeastward across the top of the isthmus, above the Mannerheim line, to cut that off altogether and leave it isolated.

However, even under those conditions, the Finns may be able to hold the eastern section of the Mannerheim line for a bit. By the way, this isn't a "line" at all but a fortified area 10 miles deep and 60 miles wide. Within this 600 square miles are many hundreds of strong defensive points. There are machine-gun nests, anti-aircraft defenses, howitzers, heavy guns, tanks and other mechanized branches. Everywhere is barbed wire, and there are many ponds and lakes which form natural defenses.

That isn't an easy zone to crack, but the Finns cannot hold long, of course, if they are cut off from their communications and are subject to attack from both south and north.

The Russians have had to sacrifice men with Napoleonic abandon in order to crack the western end of the Mannerheim line and reach Viipuri, a little to the north. There is no doubt that they will continue in an effort to take the entire line before the arrival of spring or the coming of more help for the Finns.

If the Finns have to evacuate the Mannerheim defenses and the Karelian isthmus they will fall back to positions further north among the lakes. The Reds still have a long way to go before they can call Finland conquered.

Hamlin Garland, Dean of Letters, Dies Last Night

Hollywood, March 5.—(AP)—Hamlin Garland, chronicler of middle-western prairies, lecturer, student of the American Indian and of psychic phenomena, is dead at 79.

He succumbed yesterday, three days after being stricken with a cerebral hemorrhage. With him were his wife, Zulime, and two daughters, Mrs. Constance Harper and Mrs. Mindred Lord.

Garland was born Sept. 14, 1860, in West Salem, Wis.—a product of the region he immortalized in print.

Notable was his trilogy—"A Son of the Middle Border", "A Daughter of the Middle Border" and "Trailmakers of the Middle Border"—dealing with the efforts of families to overcome isolation and hardship and transform raw prairies into secure homesteads. Oddly, he did most of his writing in big cities.

He was accorded the title of "Dean of American Letters" when his close friend, William Dean Howells, died. Since 1918 he had been a member of the American Academy of Arts and Letters. He won the Pulitzer prize in 1921.

Garland came to California 10 years ago. For several years he had been working on "Fortunate Exile", a story of his life here.

He adhered to a rigid schedule until a few days before his death. He would arise at 5 A. M. and by 10 A. M. had completed a day's work. Virtually all his writing was done in the morning. His love of the soil took him into the gardens in the afternoons.

seething over the question of intervention and there is strong support for the sending of an organized expedition. The conservative London Times says:

"The whole sentiment of this country demands that Finland should not be allowed to fall."

Cross Sees Illinois Bankrupt by Sept. 1st Under Present Regime

East St. Louis, Ill., March 5.—"The state of Illinois, under the present administration, will be bankrupt by September 1st unless drastic reductions are made in the cost of operating the state government", Speaker Hugh W. Cross of the Illinois House of Representatives, and a candidate for the Republican nomination for lieutenant-governor, told a meeting of the Women's Republican club here last night.

"Figures furnished by the state department of finance and the state treasurer reveal a balance of six and a half million dollars in the state treasury. The cost of operating the state government is a million dollars a month more than its income so it is evident that the state treasury will be bare by early fall."

"With this situation the present administration will not be able to go to the voters with their time worn slogan of operating the state on a 'pay as you go basis'. It will and should be changed to 'we've paid and paid for padded payrolls and now the money is gone'."

Speaker Cross said that the only course for the present administration, unless expenditures are slashed, is to find some new source of revenue. He declared he would use his every influence as Speaker and legislative leader of the Republican party in Illinois in

Dead Boy's Chum Tells of Tragic Sunday Accident

The funeral of Gale Hinds, 13-year-old Rock Falls boy, who was fatally shot while visiting his playmate, Vernon Purdue, Sunday evening, will be held at the Wheelock funeral home, 804 First avenue, Rock Falls, at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon, with burial in the Rock Falls cemetery.

At an inquest, conducted by Whiteside county coroner, Dr. C. M. Frye Monday afternoon, a verdict of accidental death was returned after Vernon, also 13, had told how the .38-calibre 'hair' trigger pistol he was handling discharged and almost instantly killed his companion.

For Quick Firing
Vernon said he and his chum were playing on the second floor of his home with a model airplane when Gale expressed a desire to see the revolver, which Vernon's father had received as an award for marksmanship during the World War. Purdue said the trigger of the gun was filed for quick firing.

Vernon said he got the pistol from a drawer in his mother's bedroom and took it to the doorway of the room to show Gale, who was leaning against the door the forthcoming special session to oppose any new forms of taxation.

jam. He said Gale asked to see how the gun was loaded and that he went back to the bureau and obtained five bullets which he placed in the gun's chamber.
Started to Return Gun
Vernon testified he had not been pointing the gun at Gale. He said Gale suggested he put the gun back. Vernon said he had been standing next to Gale in the doorway and that as he turned to re-enter the room the gun discharged.
He was unable to explain whether the trigger had been caught on his or Gale's clothing or if he had jarred his arm against the doorway.

ARGUMENTS MARCH 25

Washington, March 5.—(AP)—The Supreme court has ordered oral arguments March 25 on a petition by Illinois to increase the amount of water diverted from the Great Lakes - St. Lawrence system from 1,500 cubic feet a second to 5,000 cubic feet a second.

The 1,500 cubic feet was ordered in a Supreme court decree several years ago.
